March 4, 1971

Ladner with C.O. Dufour (left) and Duane Bourgeois, alderman, on the occasion of a presentation from South Central Bell commemorating the incorporation of the town of Waveland.

Garfield John Ladner, 74, mayor and life long resident of the city of Waveland, died at 7:12 p.m. Tuesday night at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis where he had been a patient for about three weeks.

A former house painter who never completed high school, Ladner rose to serve as mayor of Waveland for 31 years until illness forced him to relinquish his duties last August. He and his wife, Lottie Bourgeois Ladner, resided at 438 Central Ave. in Waveland.

Ladner was born Mar. 12, 1899 the son of the late Alcide and Angeline Farve Ladner. He became mayor in 1942 after defeating the late Thomas Bourgeois. He was reelected to his eight term Nov. 3, 1970.

On Aug. 3, 1946, news stories in the Sea Coast Echo recount that Ladner won the Democratic primary by "the largest majority that has ever been recorded by a candidate for mayor in Waveland." Ladner received 277 votes to 104 for W.A. Mapp's.

Officials of Waveland, Bay St. Louis, and Hancock County showed their respect for Ladner Wednesday by ordering all flags to be flown at half-staff.

John Longo, who has been serving as mayor pro-tempore, announced that city hall would be closed Friday for Ladner's funeral services.

Ladner was a life long member of St. Clare's Church in Waveland and a member of the Holy Name Society. He was also a member of the Gulf Coast Mayor's Municipal Association and a past member of the Knights of Columbus.

Besides his wife, Ladner is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Grace Bordages of Lakeshore, Mrs. Myrtle Haas of Kiln, and Mrs. Shirley LaFontaine of Gulfport; four sons, Alvin Ladner of Waveland, Carl Ladner of Bay St. Louis, Bert Ladner of Gulfport, and Lewis Ladner of the Panama Canal Zone. A fifth son, Malvin, died in 1967. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Alfred Bourgeois of Gretna, La. and Mrs. John Carver of Waveland and three brothers, Chris Ladner and Raymond Ladner of Waveland and Ervin Ladner of Bay St. Louis. He also had 25 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 10:30 a.m. Friday morning in the chapel of Riemann-Fahey Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis, followed by a requiem mass at 11 a.m. in St. Clare's Church in Waveland. Interment will be in Waveland Cemetery. Friends may pay respects after 7 p.m. Thursday evening at Riemann-Fahey Funeral Home.

County School Board Reverses Construction Bid Decision

In a 3-2 vote Saturday county school board members overturned an earlier motion awarding a contract to H.R. Morgan, Inc. of Petal, Miss. for construction of a sewage treatment plant at Hancock North Central School.

The action came on the heels of a three week controversy in which Terry Feeney, Inc. of Waveland asked the board to show cause why he had not received the contract bid. Feeney's bid of $38,000 was $319 lower than the bid of Morgan.

Attorney William Frisbie, representing Feeney, had maintained that the board's consulting engineer for the project, Frank Dunaway, had erroneously advised the board that his client did not meet the specifications of the bid.

In a separate vote Saturday, the board passed a motion granting the contract to Feeney on the condition that he meet all the required specifications.

In other business, the board approved a change order on an original bid of $53,000 at Gulfview School in the amount of $1,053.73. The change order covered extra costs incurred in converting classroom space at the school into a science room.

The board also approved the appointment of O.O. Swords as a temporary elementary principal at Hancock North Central School.

The board turned down a claim by Elmer Ladner for $1,350 which he petitioned the board to pay for work that he said he performed for the board on weekends.

Ladner, a former employee of the board, said that he was promised an additional $50 a month in pay by certain board members if he would pump gas for vehicles in the county on Saturday and Sunday. He said that he never received any of the money he was promised.

Attorney J.P. Compretta, representing Ladner, said that he didn't know what action he would next take but indicated that he may talk to state wage and hour officials in Gulfport.

School District In Good Shape For Building Program

Architect Fred Wagner told Bay-Waveland Municipal school trustees Monday night that it would be a mistake to spend any more money on the existing Junior High School cafeteria and that the board should consider the relative merits of a new building.

The statement came during a report on proposed building projects involving

Seedlings From Friendship Oak Distributed To Coast Mayors

State Commissioner of Agriculture Jim "Buck" Ross presented mayors from the Coast cities with packages of seedling oak trees under the historic Friendship Oak on the University of Southern Mississippi at Gulf Park campus.

The seedlings, which were grown from acorns from the Friendship Oak, will be distributed to Coast residents by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce during December in an effort to replace oak trees lost in Hurricane Camille.

The Tuesday morning ceremony marked the beginning of the distribution and Ross told the group "It doesn't cost a person a thing in the world to come get these trees." He emphasized that he wanted everyone on the Coast to pick up a package of trees.

Also on hand for the ceremony was Dr. William D. McCain, president of the University of Southern Mississippi.

The packages will be distributed in Long Beach on Dec. 20 from 9 a.m. until noon in front of the Chamber of Commerce on the corner of Jeff Davis and U.S. Highway 90, in Pass Christian on Dec. 20 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the War Memorial Park on East Scenic Dr., in Bay St. Louis on Dec. 21 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Chamber of Commerce on U.S. Highway 90 and in Waveland on Dec. 21 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gordon J. Gleim, president of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, on the corner of Terrace and Central streets.

Friendship Oak has attracted visitors, poets, writers and artists from all parts of the world. For 50 years it was the center of campus life for students who attended Gulf Park, which used to be a private college for girls.

In front of the oak stands a plaque which reads "Friendship Oak 1487-1 am called The Friendship Oak. Those who enter my shadow will remain friends through all of their lifetime."

The massive live oak was a mere sapling when Christopher Columbus sailed into the Caribbean. When Ponce de Leon reached Florida in quest of the Fountain of Youth the oak had just begun to bear acorns.

In 1587, the Friendship Oak celebrated its 100th birthday. At this time it was producing 2,000 pounds of acorns annually.

When pirates were using the Coast as a base in the 1700's, the Friendship Oak, then 200 years old, was still growing. The oak now is approximately 400 years old. For the past century six to seven thousand pounds of acorns have been produced annually by the tree.

At its crown the tree is 70 feet with a trunk diameter of five feet plus. The circumference of its trunk is 16 feet and its foliage spreads 120 feet. The average length of the main lateral limbs is 55 to 60 feet from the trunk which offers nearly 12,000 square feet of shelter. The oak's tap root is about 35 feet deep.

Crack-Down Starts On License Tags

A crack-down was announced today on the misuse of dealer tags and improper license plates. The Motor Vehicle Control Office, the Highway Safety Patrol, county and city officials, and other law enforcement officers, and the Mississippi Automobile Dealer Association will begin an intensive, statewide effort to strictly enforce the laws and regulations as set forth in the Road and Bridge Privilege Tax Laws of the Mississippi Code of 1942 as revised September, 1972.

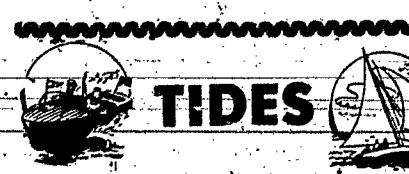

Doxey Fisher, Motor Vehicle Controller, states that the major areas in which his wide spread investigation will be involved will pertain to the misuse of dealer tags, display of improper license plates such as out-of-state and out-of-county plates, and improper pickup truck license plates.

three of the district's four schools. The two major projects under consideration by school trustees are an athletic field house for the high schools, to be located at Tiger Stadium and a new cafeteria building for the Junior High School on Ulman Ave. Present day construction costs for a 7,000 sq. ft. cafeteria, Wagner said, would run about $25 per sq. ft. and estimated cost of a 4,000 sq. ft. field house would run about $20 per sq. ft. An expenditure of $100,000 for the field house and about $215,000 for the cafeteria would make overall project costs approach $300,000 if the cafeteria were built of brick, Wagner said.

The school system is in good shape on bonded indebtedness, Superintendent J. D. McCullough told the board. Some $73,000 is still owed on a 1960 long term note for North Bay Elementary School, and $908,000 still outstanding on a $1.5 million long term note for the Waveland School, leaving a total of $981,000 outstanding on long term notes.

All that is owed on short notes, McCullough pointed out is $28,000 spent in 1972 for renovations to the Junior High building. The school system is, under those conditions, now eligible for $200,000 on a short term loan under state statutes, he said, which may help to forego any further bonded indebtedness.

Action on the matter was tabled pending inspections by McCullough and board members of similar facilities in other area schools.

Vaughan Named Global-MTF Manager

D. Glen Vaughan has been named resident manager of Global Associates' operations at NASA's Mississippi Test Facility (MTF), where several federal and state agencies are involved in space and environmental investigations. Vaughan succeeds Thomas A. Hardison, who has been reassigned to Global's Canton Island operation.

Vaughan graduated from the University of Miami with a degree in Electrical Engineering in 1955. He received his Master's degree in Industrial Engineering from Stanford University in 1961. He spent 10 years in the U.S. Air Force where he had assignments ranging from mission pilot to management of an Atlas ICBM launch complex. He participated in 28 Atlas launches and was awarded the Air Force Commendation Medal. Prior to joining Global Associates in July, 1971, he was president of his own Engineering Firm, Vaughan Engineering Company, Inc., in Gulfport.

Vaughan is married to the former Gloria Brister of McComb, Miss. They have two children and reside in Pass Christian.

Global Associates, a joint venture of H.C. Smith Construction Company and the Atlas Corporation, is the prime contractor for all operating services at MTF.

Youth Center Dance Will Celebrate 1st Anniversary

A year-end dance contest will be a highlight of the Jaycee Youth Center Dance scheduled for Friday night at the Ulman Ave. Center.

This Friday's event will celebrate the first year of operation of the Center under Jaycee co-chairmen James Chinliche and Charles Parker. The dance contest will be open only to winners of all past weekly competitions at the Center.

Proceeds from the dance will go toward Christmas food baskets for area families, Parker said. Admission for this dance will be $1.25 per person plus two cans of food or $1.50 each with the extra 25 cents to be used to purchase groceries. Any student or member of the community who would like to donate groceries for the Jaycee baskets may contact Jerry Seuzeneau, Claude Switzer, Jim Chinliche or Charles Parker.

The usual house rules will prevail for the dance. Over the past 12 months the Youth Center has held a dance every week, and on numerous occasions, two a week with the help of outside sponsors.

Throughout the summer the Center was open daily under the supervision of two local college students with full Center facilities available to all area youth.

Although under the jurisdiction of the two co-chairmen all Youth Center activities are planned and coordinated by the Youth Organization which meets every Saturday from 4 to 6 p.m.

Some months ago Jaycees instigated a building fund drive with the hope of constructing a new building for the Center. The drive is off to a good start with contributions already received from private sources and assistance promised from the city.

Parker and Chinliche both speak highly of community and agency help which they say has attributed greatly to the success of the Center this past year. They commended in particular the Bay police and fire departments, Bay city council and local bands, especially Corruption, who have given time, material and effort toward developing the Youth Center program.

St. Ann CYO To Carol For St. Jude

St. Ann's Catholic Youth Organization will sponsor carolling for St. Jude Children's Hospital during this coming week.

Darnell Spiers, CYO president, says the group will carol on Sunday night Dec. 16, in Waveland, on Wednesday night Dec. 19, in Bay St. Louis, and on Thursday night Dec. 20, in Clermont Harbor. The carollers will meet each evening at St. Ann's Church in Clermont Harbor, leaving at 6 p.m.

Sen. Smith To Speak At Chamber Banquet

Mississippi State Senator Martin Smith will be the principal speaker at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Annual Membership Banquet to be held Friday at Diamondhead Country Club.

SEN. MARTIN SMITH

Senator Smith was born in Poplarville, Mississippi and attended public schools and Pearl River Junior College at Poplarville. He received his Undergraduate and Law Degree from the University of Mississippi in 1968.

Sen. Smith is a practicing attorney and partner in the Law Firm of Smith, Smith and Tate, with offices in Poplarville and Piquemine. He was first elected to the Mississippi State Senate in 1967 and was re-elected for a second term in 1971. In January of 1974, he will begin serving his seventh year as State Senator.

He has served as chairman

1974 Flood Imminent Stennis Warns

Senator John C. Stennis (D-Miss) warns of the possibility of another serious flood in Mississippi in 1974 and cautioned residents along the Mississippi River and the Yazoo River Basin to be prepared.

Senator Stennis said his warning is based on recent surveys of the Mississippi River by the Corps of Engineers.

"According to the Corps of Engineers the predicted river stages at Vicksburg indicate that a greater flood potential exists now than at this same time last year. Of course future developments will depend on the amount of rainfall upstream and in Mississippi during the coming weeks," Senator Stennis said.

An estimated 3,180,000 acres in Mississippi were flooded last year causing some $33 million in damage and creating severe problems for farmers and residents in the Mississippi Delta.

The 1973 floods were caused by heavy rainfall in both the Upper Mississippi River Valley and in Mississippi. The Mississippi River grew to the point that it could not drain the Yazoo River. This together with heavy local storms in the Yazoo Basin caused the water to back up until it overflowed.

Drug Project Steering Committee Formed

The organizational meeting of the Initiation and Development drug project steering committee was held Nov. 29 at the Mississippi

Power Company auditorium at Gulfport. Steering committee members will serve in an advisory capacity to the I & D project as community representatives from Harrison, Hancock, Stone and Pearl River Counties.

Members of the steering committee will review data provided by the I & D project on the measures of drug abuse and drug abuse services. Members will work to reach some consensus on which drug abuse services should be expanded, continued or developed. And members will recommend how to coordinate and evaluate these drug abuse services.

Bob Fairbanks is chairman and Larry Cantrell is co-chairman of the steering committee.

Each member of the steering committee will work on a task force in one of three areas: education-prevention, clinical treatment, and legislation and funding.

The I & D staff presented to the members a report on the progress of the project since it began June 1.

The Gulf Coast Mental Health Center received the I & D grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's public health services. Objectives of the I & D project are to provide a measure of the extent, nature and frequency of drug abuse in Harrison, Hancock, Stone and Pearl River Counties; to identify and define existing drug abuse services; and to design and implement a broad range community drug abuse service project.

The next steering committee meeting will be in January.

Taxpayer's Notice

Dr. Russell In Miami On NIMH Seminar

In Miami this week participating in a National Institute of Mental Health Seminar at the University of Miami is Dr. John F. Russell, of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Drug Abuse Center in Gulfport.

The seminar is one of a series of six 8-day conferences being conducted by the National Drug Abuse Prevention segment of NIMH, and will deal with the management, business and administrative aspects of the program. Dr. Thomas J. Cahill Jr., is deputy director for NIMH.

Dr. Russell has recently accepted a position as a steering committee member as well as chairman of one of three committee task forces by the local Mental Health Association—under their Initiation and Development grant.

An emergency medical technician's course on the symptoms of overdose and first aid was conducted by Dr. Russell for personnel at Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis recently and last weekend he participated in lectures for the council of Public School Systems in Jackson. The council represents the 26 largest school districts in Mississippi.

The senior communications electronics staff officer course at Keesler AFB received Dr. Russell as a lecturer for the second time on Wednesday. Earlier in the week, the Small Business Administration, in Long Beach hosted a lecture session which Dr. Russell conducted.

He and Mrs. Marion Seal of the Drug Abuse Center attended a planning meeting with Dr. Sam Spinks, Superintendent of the Hattiesburg City Schools on Monday. Plans were made at that time for an area-wide two-day community awareness workshop to be conducted in January.

Brewer To Head Child Development Council

Ralph Brewer, Ed. D., Director of the Division of Instruction, Mississippi Department of Education, has been elected to a one-year term as Chairman of the Mississippi Child Development Council, a Council established by Governor Waller to make recommendations for programs benefiting Mississippi children through special projects.

Dr. Brewer, in addition to his present position with the Department of Education, has served as assistant director of the Division of Instruction, as state supervisor of guidance, as assistant director of curriculum in Jackson public schools, as a school counselor, and as an English teacher.

Seal Re-elected Director Of IBAA

Leo W. Seal Jr., president of the Hancock Bank in Gulfport has been re-elected Mississippi director of the Independent Bankers Association of America for the term beginning January 1, 1974.

He will represent IBAA member banks of his state on the executive council of the association which presently has a record 7,206 member banks in 41 states. The association will hold its 44th annual convention March 21-23 in Dallas, Texas.

He is a member of the Mississippi Education Association, Phi Delta Kappa, Mississippi Association of School Administrators and American Association of School Administrators.

His professional services include work with the Mississippi Council on Voluntary Family Planning, the Mississippi Interagency Commission on Mental Illness and Mental Retardation, American Personnel and Guidance Association, Governor's Committee on Children and Youth and as state coordinator of Phi Delta Kappa.

Auxiliary Presents Christmas Movie

Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary will present the annual Christmas movie at Star Theatre in Bay St. Louis at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The movie, "FRECKLES", a 20th Century Fox film, is based on a novel by Gene Stratton-Porter and is the story of a young orphan Irish boy who goes to work for the Grand Rapids Lumber Company. The story was filmed in the Limber Lost Swamp in Indiana. The G-rated movie, is especially adapted for children, but would be enjoyable to the entire family.

Admission is 25 cents and tickets are being sold through the local schools, but will also be available at the door. The film will last approximately an hour and a half.

Chairman of the auxiliary project is Mrs. Edgar Santa Cruz, Jr.

IN FRANCE - Elder John Jacob Fricke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Fricke of Waveland is now serving a full two-year mission in France for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He is a 1972 graduate of Bay Senior High School.

Mayor Garfield Ladner

Garfield Ladner died Tuesday night. The fact of his passing is probably of little import to anyone outside of Hancock County, other than as being Mayor of Waveland for 31 consecutive years. Surely that is a record, even outside of Hancock County.

But his longevity in office and in age - he was 74 years old - are not the most important facets of his life.

A lot of people have been mayors of towns. And a lot of people live to be 74 years old. But there can be few men anywhere of the stature of Garfield Ladner.

A simple man, he was possessed of great personal integrity and dignity. Soft spoken and gentle, Garfield Ladner evoked a feeling of respect in all those with whom he came in contact, however briefly. Pure French through and through, he had a typical Gallic sense of humor and it was probably his capacity for looking at himself and life with humor that sustained him through some trying experiences in his 74 years.

The list of travails is long and awe inspiring. He took office as Mayor in the middle of World War II and remained in that position, guiding the little town as it grew through that war and two more, through the ravages of three horrendous hurricanes each of which tore Waveland asunder and numerous other catastrophes less financially staggering but no less disheartening to Garfield Ladner.

Post-Civil War days brought hordes of federal agency officials and a plethora of money into Waveland, creating sometimes as much confusion and misunderstanding as had the hurricane. But Garfield sustained throughout and never lost his dignity or his sense of humor. He had little formal education but he was possessed of a quality far more valuable - an innate wisdom and a great love for his town.

For those who had the great fortune to know him his passing is a tragedy although a necessary end to a long period of undeserved suffering.

Thoughts of Garfield Ladner evoke so many memories in the reveries of his friends - and all the memories are good ones.

And that is perhaps the best tribute that can be paid to any man.

A light from the heart

There will be few holiday lights this Christmas, because of the energy crisis. Compared to other aspects of the problem, the dimming is minor. But there is another kind of light whose cut-back would mean tragedy for millions - the light of our concern for the needy, both here and in the world community.

In 34 countries struggling to become self-sufficient, that light shines upon the hungry, sick and poor through CARE, in the form of aid and development programs that bring them the health, the means and know-how to build a better life for themselves.

All of this begins with food, the source of human energy. The holiday-season CARE Food Crusade appeal asks us to help feed 26 million people, mostly children, during the coming year. In Africa, Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, nearly 20 million boys and girls will be served daily at preschool and nutrition centers, schools and other sites, to give them the chance to grow into vigorous, self-supporting adults. Other recipients include 6 million refugees and disaster victims in dire need of emergency food assistance.

To complete this plan requires $7.3 million. The rest of the costs are covered by host government contributions and U.S. donations of farm foods, so that our dollars are multiplied. For example: $5 can give 3,000 youngsters a cup of nutritious beverage; $10 serves a midday meal to 900 children; $25 helps feed 25 children for 3 months. The light you kindle from your heart will glow across the world long after the holidays.

Contribution checks may be mailed to CARE Food Crusade, 2581 Piedmont Rd., N.E., Atlanta, Ga. 30324.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

We often wonder what people did for joy and happiness before Christmas became a formal observance of the birth of Christ. For our observance of the Day is of comparatively recent vintage; for more than a thousand years His birthday was overlooked or celebrated sketchily at various times of the year. It was only within the past three or four hundred years that people began to make something of the event and one of the Popes finally set the date as December 25th.

By the 1600s Christmas was becoming a special holiday, and customs, such as the lighting of the Yule log, were starting to be formally observed. For some reason the Dutch took the celebration particularly to heart, with the English and the Germans close behind. Other traditions were established and the celebration of His birthday began to be formalized. First there were the songs of Christmas, topped by the Immortal Silent Night, and the use of mistletoe and holly for decorating, and - much more recently - the Christmas tree. No one knows when the custom of giving presents began, but that too must have been quite recent, perhaps within the past two or three hundred years.

So little by little the customs and traditions jelled, and Christmas became one of the great days of the year, perhaps the greatest in many ways. Certainly there is no other day in which so many people throughout the world join together in the Observance of Happiness.

Perhaps part of it lies in the desire, innate in most men and women to do something good for someone else. Or it may be that, amidst all our worries and disappointments, the coming of Christ epitomizes Hope for the future. This is a day of Joy and, as the philosopher said, "The most useless day of all is that in which we have not laughed!" And as another philosophic poet said, "Holidays should be like this, Free from over-emphasis, Time for soul to stretch and spit Before the world comes back on it."

So have a happy Yuletide season, and don't forget about the small boy who, when asked what his favorite person was at Christmas-time, besides Santa Claus, said that it was Round John Virgin in the "Silent Night" carol.

All Veterans should file their claim for Social Security three months before they reach the age of 65, even though they expect to work past that age.

This allows the claimant eligibility for Medicare at the minimum premium rate. If the three month period passes you can file in the month you are 65 or the three months following your birth month, which gives a seven month period to file.

In the event you don't file in that seven month period you cannot file again until Jan-Feb-March of the next calendar year and then Medicare will not start until July of that year. In addition to missing several months of protection under Medicare, the premiums will now be higher than if you had filed earlier. There is another advantage to filing early - the Social Security Administration will notify you the amount you will draw and you can plan accordingly.

As I said last week be sure you are paying or your employer is paying your Social Security tax. It is the best insurance in the event of a permanently crippling disease or accident.

Under the new National Cemetery Act, any member of the Armed Forces and any member of the Army National Guard or Air National Guard, whose death occurs, under honorable conditions, while he is hospitalized or undergoing treatment at the expense of the U.S. Government for injury or disease contracted or incurred under honorable conditions, while he is on training either active or inactive, may be buried in a National Cemetery. Any member of the Reserve Officers Training Corps of the Army, Navy or Air Force, whose death occurs under the conditions listed above for Reserve or National Guard is also entitled to burial. The wife or husband or the surviving spouse or the minor child, and at the discretion of the V.A. Administrator an unmarried adult child of any of the above listed is also entitled to burial in a National Cemetery.

Veterans now living in Mississippi who were residents of any of the following states at the time of their entrance into military service may be entitled to a state bonus, for Viet Nam service: Massachusetts, Connecticut, South Dakota, Minnesota, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Washington and the Government of Guam, but not Mississippi, as yet. Connecticut is also giving a second chance to Veterans of WW II and the Korean Conflict to collect the bonuses they earned but never collected. Veterans who believe they are eligible for one or both of these bonuses should write to: Veterans Bonus Division, 20 Trinity Street, Hartford, Connecticut, 06115.

There are 706,000 unclaimed Savings Bonds being held in the U.S. Treasury Department worth between $50 and $60 million. Veteran, did you have any money deducted for a savings bond that you didn't get??

DEALING WITH DRUGS

"Eleven persons faced a variety of drug charges today following a narcotics crackdown in . . ."

"Twenty-four persons, mostly teenagers, were arrested today for possession of dangerous drugs. . ."

We've grown so accustomed to such terse news stories that we probably take them too lightly - until we read a familiar name in the list of those arrested. Drug abuse, in short, is something we largely ignore until it strikes close to home.

Congress, like most families, has expressed collective concern over drug abuse but has produced only token legislation dealing with the nation's drug problems. We have approached the problem with typical Congressional style, throwing a pile of money in the general direction of drug law enforcement programs.

It's true that we have increased by ten-fold the amount of federal money allocated for drug abuse prevention and drug law enforcement programs in the last five years. But the sad fact remains that we have done little else.

As a member of the House Judiciary Committee, one of my subcommittee assignments deals with drug abuse legislation. While there are numerous drug abuse bills pending for a variety of reasons, no new legislation has been reported from that subcommittee this year.

The subcommittee has, however, conducted several oversight hearings on the effectiveness of various drug programs and found that the results are quite often not as favorable as we had hoped. More importantly, we found that there is very little effort to determine if these programs have any long-term favorable effects.

Congress did take a step in the right direction last summer when we approved the Reorganization Plan of 1973, which included provisions for the creation of the Drug Enforcement Administration. That new agency, a part of the Justice Department, now includes three previously separate organizations: the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, the Bureau of Customs, and the Office of Drug Abuse Law Enforcement.

John Bartels Jr., acting administrator of the new Drug Enforcement Administration, testified recently before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. In so many words, he appealed for Congressional help.

"Nor in our opinion was the work of the Congress completed with the passage of the Controlled Substances Act in 1970," he said. "There are several areas in which this Act now needs to be amended if our efforts are to succeed."

Those areas, he pointed out, include: (1) the need for tighter controls over the drug methadone; (2) passage of the Psychotropic Substances Act of 1973, which would place international controls over the group of drugs which includes LSD, the barbiturates, and amphetamines; and, most significantly, (3) restoration of mandatory penalties for certain drug violations.

Congressional action is imperative, but we should know by now that even Congress cannot legislate drug abuse out of existence. Education programs administered at the state and local levels, combined with awareness and understanding in our schools and at home, will do far more to erase drug abuse than any Congressional edict.

In the end, we will lick this problem at the grass-roots level - not in Congress.

CAFTAN CAPTURES DESIGNER FANCY

The caftan is being shown by fashion designers in a variety of fabrics from chiffon to cashmere.

This loose, flowing garment - almost a drape of fabric with slits for arms and head - is indicative of the new casual way of dressing, even for formal occasions.

Some caftans are cut so one size fits all while others run small, medium and large. This makes them great for gifts as well as the natural choice of women with figure problems.

Unlike designer clothes of the past, the caftan doesn't rely upon cut or detail for its appeal. Its beauty and the reason for its often high price lie in luxury fabrics and unique approach.

Designers feel there is a customer for evening dresses, but she is not willing to be girdled to wear them. Nor does she want to stick out like an old-fashioned thumb among casual pants wearers. So the caftan is a compromise, more a prop than a dress.

The nebulous garment is popping up not only in dresses but in outerwear via long ponchos and capes. All are geared to swirl, wrap and drape.

FRESH COCONUT

Fresh coconut adds a distinctive flavor to Christmas - salads and desserts. Follow these simple steps in buying and preparing this delicacy.

A good fresh coconut is heavy for its size. Before purchasing, shake the coconut to be sure it contains milk. Avoid cracked coconuts and those with wet moldy eyes.

To open a coconut, pierce the "eyes" with an ice pick or large nail, and drain the liquid from the coconut.

To remove the shell easily, bake the drained coconut at 350 degrees F. for 20 to 30 minutes, or put it in the freezer for an hour. Then place the coconut on a firm surface, and tap the shell lightly with a hammer in several places until it cracks. Separate the meat from the shell. Use a vegetable parer to remove the brown skin.

Fresh coconuts in the shell retain good quality up to a month in the refrigerator. Containers of ready-to-eat coconut keep best in the refrigerator or freezer.

Hancock County Cooperative Extension Service will offer a series of three lecture-discussions in the area of Child Development on three consecutive Monday nights during January. Topics will be as follows: January 14 - Pre-Natal Development. January 21 - Growth During the First 12 months.

January 28 - Development from 1-3 years.

The greatest benefit would be realized from these meetings if both parents or prospective parents attend.

Each phase of development, physical, social, emotional and intellectual, will be covered as thoroughly as possible in the time available. However, the direction of the meetings will, in a large part, be directed by the interests of the group.

If you are interested, please contact my office, 467-5456.

PASTURES

If you have fescue and do not need the grazing right now, stockpile it for later grazing. Cool-season grasses like fescue do not lose quality in cold weather like warm season grasses.

A six to eight inch growth on fescue will give a lot of grazing in late January and February. The fescue should continue to grow rapidly through December and January.

Frosted summer grasses like bermuda give good roughage, but should be grazed off by January 1. After this date, it deteriorates rapidly. So graze it off first and follow with winter grazing and hay.

SOYBEANS 1974

With a short supply of fertilizer, soybean growers should adjust their program so that those soils testing low in phosphate and potash have priority on use of the fertilizer that is available.

To locate the soils that have low fertility problems, take samples and send them to the State Soil Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State University.

Many soybean problems (including too early maturity, lodging and late season diseases) were found to be related to low potash in 1973. Unless something is done, these problems could multiply in 1974.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q - Is there a deadline for veterans to apply for medical treatment at Veterans Administration hospitals?

A - There is no deadline. Priority is given to eligible veterans with service-connected disabilities.

Q - My education allowance check for last month has not arrived from the Veterans Administration. What should I do?

A - Write to the VA regional office which has custody of your claims file. Be sure to provide your name, claim number and address.

Q - I was discharged from service about two months ago, and found the cost of homes so high my wife and I have decided on a mobile home. Will the Veterans Administration guarantee a loan for both the mobile-home and land to place it on?

A - Yes. The maximum guaranty for mobile homes is $10,000, which can be increased to $17,000 if the loan includes site acquisition.

Pollution Merry-Go-Round

By Dan Barber
Echo Staff Writer

(Editor's note: Much of the information for this third part on pollution problems is from information prepared by the New York State Department of Health, division of Environmental Health Services in its Manual of Instruction for Sewage Treatment Plant Operators.)

WHY SEWAGE TREATMENT

By definition, sewage is largely the water supply of a community after it has been fouled by various uses. From a standpoint of source it can include the liquid or water-carried wastes from residences, business buildings, institutions and industrial establishments together with such ground water, surface and storm water as may be present.

Before large concentrations of population and increasing industrialization, sewage was largely a matter of human and animal excretion that could be disposed of in any number of safe and convenient ways. Disposal of sewage only developed as a problem with the introduction of water as a vessel to pick up and carry away these waste materials.

A distinction should be made between sewage disposal and sewage treatment. All sewage has to be disposed of. Some sewage is subjected to various types of treatment before it is disposed of. Other receives no treatment before disposal.

Sewage treatment involves removing as much of the solids in the sewage as possible and partially changing by decomposition complex highly putrescible organic solids to mineral or relatively stable organic solids. The extent of the change is dependent on the treatment processes used.

After treatment the sewage must still be disposed of. The three methods which are most commonly used to dispose of sewage consist of (1) disposal by irrigation, (2) subsurface disposal, and (3) disposal by dilution.

The city of Bay St. Louis Plans Described

Plans for Traceway, the proposed spectacular recreational complex to be located near the Barnett Reservoir were described at a November meeting of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board.

Economics Research Associates, the firm that did the work for Disney World, Opryland and all of the Six Flags projects said, "this project will have a tremendous economic impact on the state."

relies on the latter method, emptying its sewage first into an oxidation pond where primary decomposition occurs and the sewage is chlorinated and then into Watts Bayou, the Jordan River and ultimately into the Bay and Mississippi Sound.

Disposal by dilution simply means dumping your sewage into the nearest river, lake, or ocean available. This results quite naturally in the pollution of the receiving water. The degree of the pollution depends on the dilution, the volume and composition of the sewage as compared to the volume of water with which it is mixed.

The problems can be small if there is sufficient aerobic bacteria action present to provide for aerobic decomposition of the organic solids. The problems become big when there is not enough dissolved oxygen present to adequately maintain aerobic decomposition and anaerobic decomposition takes over. Anaerobic bacteria are those bacteria that do not rely on dissolved oxygen and get their oxygen from breaking down complex organic substances into simpler substances. When decay proceeds under anaerobic conditions, putrefaction results and there is the very noticeable odor, black sludge and health menace.

When sewage is discharged into a stream, the processes of decay and decomposition do not stop but proceed and continue towards completion. Eventually a stream polluted at a certain point in time would, as a result of the decomposition of the polluting organic matter, return to a state similar to that before the pollution occurred. This process of self-purification is accomplished by physical, chemical and biological means.

Treatment Copies Nature Sewage treatment is designed to closely parallel the natural actions that result in the self purification of a waterway, but in a much more controlled and accelerated manner. Treatment methods may vary, but all are designed with certain basic objectives in mind. These objectives include maintenance of water sources for domestic supplies, prevention of health hazards, prevention of objectionable nuisances like odor and unsightly streams, the maintenance of non-polluted waters for the purposes of recreation and fish propagation, and the conservation of water for industrial and agricultural uses.

Sewage treatment methods usually fall under five headings: (1) preliminary treatment, (2) primary treatment, (3) secondary treatment, (4) chlorination and (5) sludge treatment. Stabilization ponds (oxidation ponds) fall under the category of secondary treatment. Secondary treatment is used where primary treatment was not sufficient to remove enough of the organic solids so that the receiving waters can assimilate the sewage without disturbing the normal balance of the water. Secondary treatment depends primarily upon biological aerobic organisms for the biochemical decomposition of organic solids. The introduction of chlorination into the process is useful in the disinfection or destruction of pathogenic organisms (those that are responsible for typhoid fever, dysentery, cholera), in odor control and to act as a catalyst in the reduction of biochemical oxygen demand. Chlorination is a process that may be used in all stages of sewage treatment and thus is considered as a method by itself.

(Next week: A look at the city of Waveland's planned $1 million sewage treatment plant.)

What Would You Like To Know . . .

About Your City?

Members of the Bay St. Louis City Council have expressed a desire for local citizens to become better informed of the affairs of their community and the workings of their city government.

Questions concerning the tax structure or assessments, city operating costs, areas of income and disbursement of funds and any other of a reasonable nature will be answered by council members in a new series starting this week in the Echo.

In cooperation with the city council, the Echo will publish each week a questionnaire which can be clipped out and mailed or brought in person to City Hall. Questions submitted will be answered the following week and as much information as possible on the subject will be supplied by whichever council member appropriate. While the council would prefer that the correspondent identify himself, names are not necessary and any question of a reasonable nature will be answered.

Readers are reminded that questionnaires must be submitted to City Hall, not the Echo.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Dear Sir: Why is the speed limit not enforced on Carroll Avenue by your police?

To answer this question I examined the court records since January, 1973, and found a total of 73 arrests throughout the community for speeding from January 1, 1973 to October 31, 1973, or an average of about 7 arrests per month. The number of arrests for each of the ten months are as follows: January, 7; February, 2; March, 34; April, 4; May, 1; June, 4; July, 7; August, 3; September, 9; and October, 2. The 34 arrests in March, 1973, resulted from the use of a radar detection device. It is significant to note that this date preceded the municipal elections by just a couple of months. The order was given (and it did not come from me) that the use of this device was not to be made again until after the city election. Unfortunately, it has not been used at all since March, 1973.

After receiving the letter from the gentleman about the speeding and after studying the record on arrests, I discussed this matter with the Police Department to find out why the radar device is not being used. The result of this conversation is: the radar detection device will be used periodically at least once each week.

Apprehending a speeding vehicle on city streets without the use of radar does not produce the very best results. This is due in part, I think, to the fact that a police patrol car with its blue lights and other markings can be spotted in most instances by a driver who is exceeding the speed limits and this gives the guilty party time to cut his miles-per-hour when the police car has been sighted.

This answer to the question by one of our citizens is truthful. This is the way it should be. It does point out clearly that 1) the police department has not been on the alert so far as enforcing the speed limits on city streets is concerned; and 2) that the mayor has not given his attention to this matter as should have been done.

However, both these deficiencies will be corrected. The Chief of Police has stated that at least once weekly speeding will be checked by means of the radar device. And as for my office I can assure everyone that the monthly arrest reports will be watched and studied more closely.

Warren Carver, Mayor

ASC Committeemen Election Told

Results of the December 3 election of ASC county committeemen for 1974 were announced today by Forest M. Lee, chairman of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee.

Newly named to committee posts in the mail balloting were: Oresse P. Ladner elected to a three-year term of office, Jack Shaw elected as 1st alternate to serve one year, and James O. Lee elected as 2nd alternate to serve one year. The farmer committees are in charge of local administration of national farm programs, through the ASCS office.

Results of the December 3rd election of ASC county committeemen for 1974 were announced today by Robert A. Burks, Chairman of the Pearl River County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee. Farmers elected to the committees were: Community A — L. D. Davis, chairman, Curtis Rester, vice-chairman, Cary Kirkland, member, Emerson Ladner, 1st alternate, John J. Smith, Jr., 2nd alternate.

Community B — James O. Ladner, chairman, Lavelle Ladner, vice-chairman.

Community B — L. Wayne Stewart, member, Tony

Jones, 1st alternate, Billy B. Pardus, 2nd alternate.

Community C — Berkley

Burge, chairman, Lawrence

Holden, vice chairman,

Community D — Horace J.

Dossett, chairman, Lucious

Mitchell, vice-chairman,

Wilford Wise, member, Billy

C. Walker, 1st alternate, John

E. Patch, 2nd alternate.

Community E — Joe R. Lee,

chairman, Hollis Mitchell,

vice-chairman, Mike Harris,

member, L. V. Sones, 1st

alternate, Archie Baucum,

2nd alternate.

Burks also announced the county ASC convention to be held December 13, at 2 p.m. in the Pearl River — Hancock County ASCS Office, where farmers will be elected to fill vacancies on the county ASC committee. The convention delegates will also elect a county committee chairman, vice-chairman, and two alternates to the committee for the coming year.

The recently-elected ASC

community committee

chairmen, vice-chairman and third regular member automatically become delegates to the county convention.

ASC county and community committees are in charge of local administration of such national farm programs as:

Feed Grain, Price Support,

Farm Storage loans, and

REAP. Farmers of this area have received payments and assurances that enabled a step forward in their farming practices.

Special attraction is the new

Army pay, starting at $26.10 a month, before deductions.

Meals, housing, clothing, medical and dental care, are all provided free. All this and a 30-day paid vacation, plus many more benefits are yours for enlisting.

Women who are interested in joining the "American WAC Company," or who are interested in any of the broad range of Army opportunities should contact a local Army representative, listed in the Yellow Pages.

Fort Jackson, S. C., will be the home of the new company.

Presently basic training there is confined solely to men, but on January 4, the "American

WAC Company" will change that tradition and become the first peace-time women's company ever to train at a post other than Fort Mc-Clellan, Alabama, the major

WAC training location.

The "American WAC

Company" will be composed of 150 women from all of the 50 states. Three women will be recruited from Mississippi.

Recruitment is now underway to get not only women from each state, but also women who are qualified in a broad range of Army job skills.

Applicants must be high school graduates or the GED equivalent. They will be placed in the Delayed

Enlistment Program no later than December 14, their enlistment becoming effective

January 2. Upon enlistment, their orders will take them to Fort Jackson, for their basic training.

Doctors' Pay
Increase Urged

Chairman John C. Stennis
(D-Miss.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee introduced bills Dec. 4 to increase pay for military physicians and to restructure the enlistment and re-enlistment bonus system for other military personnel.

Senator Stennis said the physicians bill, designed to make military pay competitive with civilian practice, is needed to retain medical doctors in the military services.

"It will partly close the gap between compensation paid physicians in private life and that in the military services," Senator Stennis said.

This measure would increase "special pay" from $150 to $350 per month for a military physician with over two years active service and would authorize a bonus of up to $15,000 per year for doctors for each year they agree to continue active service in place of the present system.

The legislation deals with physicians only and does not increase benefits for other health professionals within the Department of Defense.

Tradition Breaker & Season Opener, 'Gamma Rays' Is a Little Theatre Winner

by Adoree Shortle
Echo News Editor

No one ever likes to see the depths of human emotions bared, especially when the emotions are those which have already been experienced by the viewer. The experience is particularly unsettling when there are truths bared as well.

Still, the presence of inherent truths aids the acceptance of the necessity to bare the emotions—a catharsis as it were, which all of us need at some time.

It is perhaps for this reason that Paul Zindel's drama, The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds, was awarded the famed Pulitzer prize in 1970.

The plot is relatively simple, the cast small. The drama in production, however, is violently demanding of even a professional company. To attempt such a play with a totally amateur cast and crew and under difficult circumstances would be regarded in the theatre world as extremely ambitious.

Laurie Kiefer Byrd, who put the play on the boards last week for Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's season opener, apparently possesses that quality as well as the rare ability to bring the best out of co-workers.

One suspects that most of the cast and technical crews were discovering, under her direction, capabilities that they didn't know they possessed—a rare talent and particularly valuable in amateur theatre.

The Effect of Gamma Rays etc. (a ponderous title) is the story of a tortured, neurotic mother trying to cope with poverty of mind and spirit, far worse than the economic straits she also endures. Her two teenage daughters, revive in her memories of her own school day traumas and consequently, bear the burden of her bitter reactions.

In her second time on stage, Nancy Gex as the mother presented a most credible and moving performance. Mrs. Gex acts by instinct and has good stage presence. One also suspects that she has an excellent capacity for comedy timing and would be a joy to watch in a Noel Coward play. Her lack of experience on stage showed in a lack of pacing. She was always up which left her no way to build to the more climatic scenes with her daughters and in some of the poignant soliloquies.

Probably the most difficult part of the portrayal was a long drunk scene executed almost totally in pantomime, so written by the playwright to draw the most compassion from the audience for the mother's situation.

At this one point the author gives the actress a vehicle through which she draws her entire characterization and which affords the mother the one opportunity to elicit any pity or understanding from the audience. Mrs. Gex carried it off well, albeit with a little too much head bobbing, but she held her audience and was believable.

She threw in some excellent pieces of business, again by instinct, such as falling out of her slipper on an upstage cross and a drunken stupor preoccupation with sorting and discarding table linens.

Kristin Frankiewicz and Susan Smith were, in a sense, type cast as today's (and any day's) teenagers: violently adverse personalities but underlying similarities each fighting in her own way for emotional survival. The two girls, and freshman Terri Hille in a bit part as a devious and smug science fair contender, gave most satisfactory portrayal in their roles. Timing was off in some of the scenes between the two sisters, probably attributable to the fact that young, untrained actors tend to act more with their voices than their bodies. However, both girls have promise and should pursue further on-stage appearances.

It was difficult to remember that "the corpse", an aged, ailing old woman who had no lines but several appearances on stage was a 20-year-old girl, Franya Frankiewicz. Her makeup was not only superb but her hunched, rheumatic, painfully slow movements in character were outstanding.

This production enjoyed the benefits of new and improved lighting and a most welcome sound system. Still, inadequate, the sound system now is vastly better than before. A floating bank of overhead spots before the proscenium would have afforded the technical director more variation in spot lighting and lent greater dramatic impact to the action on stage. Too much full lighting tends to intrude on audience mood.

The technical and backstage crews performed as admirably and smoothly as the actresses which created an altogether enjoyable production. Mrs. Byrd, as well as producer Mrs. John Schott and their two young assistants, deserve the highest accolade for their efforts.

A small group in Saturday night's audience, apparently unable to tell the difference between dramatic impact and comedy dialogue, laughed throughout most of the play. Although they were boorish and rude, at least they were there—which is more than can be said for whole bunches of the local populace who never attend Little Theatre productions.

The Bay-Waveland theatre group is to be commended not only for their perseverance but for the consistently high quality of their productions.

Judge Samski Included In Latest Work On Juvenile Justice

What is perhaps the latest published work in the field of juvenile justice, a 769-page book entitled Juvenile Justice Administration, has been received by Judge Lawrence Samski, Harrison County Family Court.

The book was compiled by two members of the Professional Standards Division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police; Richard W. Kobetz, Assistant Director of the Division, and Betty B. Bosarge, Juvenile Justice Specialist with the Division.

When the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice issued its report on juvenile delinquency in 1967, it advocated sweeping changes in the administration of juvenile justice.

To determine what has been accomplished since 1967 and what improvements in the juvenile justice system still need to be undertaken, the International Association of Chiefs of Police conducted a series of Delinquency Prevention-Juvenile Justice Conferences which were designed to obtain an analysis of total system operations by system practitioners.

Juvenile Justice Administration is a book which has been compiled from the results of those analyses. "It is a book which every individual involved with juvenile justice, in any capacity, should study," Judge Samski said.

Judge Samski attended one of the series of IACP conferences in Atlanta in 1971, and the book is a direct result of information and data gleaned at those conferences.

The book contains recommendations made by conference participants, such as Judge Samski, for the system-wide improvement of juvenile justice operations and it also includes suggestions to improve specific system components. Descriptions of delinquency prevention and rehabilitation programs which have been found to be successful are also included.

Hot Line Open For Toy Tips

Consumers now have fast and free access to toy and crib safety information via the Consumer Product Safety Commission's new product safety information line.

The toll free number for Maryland residents is (301) 492-2937. The number for all other states is (800) 638-2666.

Telephones are manned from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. (EST). After 8:00 p.m., code-phones record all messages from consumers.

Initially, the safety hot line is focusing on toy and crib safety tips as part of the Commission's holiday season toy and crib safety campaigns.

The safety hot line is a pilot project and will be evaluated by the Commission after three months' operation. If successful, the hot line will be expanded to include information on flammable fabrics and other areas of consumer product safety.

The cost of the toll free hot line equipment is $5,000 for the three-month trial period.

A Special Party

A CHRISTMAS CAROL—Students of the Christ Episcopal Day School Choral group under the direction of Janet Colner added a musical touch to a "very special" Christmas party for residents of the County Home on Dunbar Avenue this Monday. The party sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary was complete with a tree, gifts and holiday refreshments courtesy of the service group. Each senior citizen also received a box of home baked cookie breads to enjoy through the season. In the foreground is Miss Rachel Gex, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gex III.

PUNCH AND COOKIES—Mrs. John Rosetti took over the job of serving up the punch for the students and senior citizens at the County Home party. Cake, cookies and candy delighted the palates of everyone. Waiting to receive theirs are Mr. Manuel Carver and Miss Lucy Mallet, daughter of Mrs. Peggy Mallet.

More Women Drawing Retirement

Nearly one-half of all retired women are getting monthly social security retirement checks on their own work records, according to social security officials here.

Twenty years ago, only 5 percent of all women 65 and older were getting monthly benefits on their own records. "On her own work record, the working woman can retire at 62 with reduced social security payments. Or she can wait until she's 65 and get full monthly benefits," a spokesman said. "But, if she's entitled to higher benefits as a wife on her husband's work record, she can choose to get the higher payment."

Women reaching 62 this year can get monthly retirement checks after 5½ years or more of work under social security, the spokesman said.

Social security work credit is measured in calendar quarters—January-March, April-June, July-September, or October-December.

Working women get credit for a quarter of work if they are paid $50 or more in a quarter for work covered by social security. Self-employed women get social security credit for 4 quarters in any year their annual self-employment net income is $400 or more.

"Quarters of work credit help to determine a woman's eligibility for social security retirement payments—but they do not affect the amount of her monthly check," the spokesman said. "The benefit amount is based on her average earnings in work covered by social security over a period of years."

At 65, people are also eligible for Medicare hospital and medical insurance. Hospital insurance helps pay for hospital care and certain follow-up care. The medical insurance part helps pay for physicians' services and many related health care services, the spokesman said.

Miss. Baptists Launch Drive For Gulfshore Restoration

Mississippi Baptists in the Hattiesburg and Gulf Coast area are in a campaign to raise $100,000 from individuals to apply toward the restoration of Gulfshore Baptist Assembly at Pass Christian.

This campaign is the result of a meeting held recently in Hattiesburg in which Baptist leaders from 17 counties in Area Six of the statewide organization met and launched the drive.

Holt McMullan, of Hattiesburg, presided over the meeting in the absence of Paul McMullan, also of Hattiesburg, who is chairman for individual gifts to the campaign.

Also present was Dr. Earl Kelly, executive secretary-treasurer of the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board, and other leaders from Jackson.

Dr. David Grant, of Jackson, is general chairman of the current statewide "Restore Gulfshore" campaign to raise $1,250,000 toward the rebuilding of the facility.

Gulfshore was practically destroyed by Hurricane

State News In Brief

Hattiesburg - Jack Diferent, executive director of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission in Gulfport will give an address on "Regional Planning" Dec. 14 at the Univ. of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg.

Diferent is one of three guest lecturers scheduled for December by the university's Dept. of Geography.

JACKSON - Governor Bill

Waller urged all Mississippians who are experiencing a problem in getting diesel fuel, heating oil and other fuels under the Federal Allocation program to contact the State Fuel Coordinator, George Cochran, in the office of the Mississippi Fuel and Energy Management Commission, 1307 Woolfolk State Office Building.

The Governor said the office of the Fuel Coordinator and Fuel and Energy Management Commission was set up to make sure Mississippi Producers know how to obtain necessary fuels under the current federal allocation programs.

Waller said, "We do not know of a crop that could not be harvested or a plant that was forced to close permanently because of the fuel shortage. We are working daily to prevent dangerous shortages that might hurt our economy."

rebuilding the assembly. The target date for occupancy is the summer of 1976, Dr. Grant said.

The plan of the current campaign, as organized, is to approach individuals for gifts and to ask every church in the State Convention to give two percent of its budget for the next three years.

A list of "Living Memorials" for the assembly was presented as part of the statewide plan of giving for individuals, as follows:

Six conference rooms at $6,000 each; 122 bedrooms at $3,000 each; two meeting rooms at $10,000 each; program director's office, $4,000; manager's office, $4,000; lounge-lobby, $50,000; dining room, $60,000; day care facility, $30,000; book store, $8,000; gift shop, $12,000; pulpit furnishings, $3,000; infirmary, $10,000 and auditorium, $100,000.

Dr. Grant said that individuals would be presented an opportunity to give any amount they desired but he felt that many will take advantage of the chance to give one or more of the "Living Memorials" for the facility.

Many churches in the state have already voted to participate by giving the two percent of their budgets for the next three years.

Shipping Inventory Available

An inventory of American commercial shipping vessels used in ocean trade and on inland waterways, as of January 1, 1973, is available to the American public.

The Waterborne Commerce Statistics Center in New Orleans, an agency of the Army Corps of Engineers Lower Mississippi Valley division, compiles yearly lists of transportation companies and their vessels.

The publication is divided into three books. "Transportation Series 3, 'Transportation Lines on the Great Lakes System,' is 42 pages, long and sells for 40 cents. Transportation Series 4, 'Transportation Lines on the Mississippi River System and the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway,' 326 pages, and Transportation Series 5, 'Transportation Lines on the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Coasts,' 232 pages, sell for $2.00 each.

Each volume gives information in three comprehensive tables:

Table 2 - Vessels, their type and construction, net register tonnage, length and breadth, draft, horsepower, carrying capacity, highest fixed superstructure, cargo, handling equipment, local operating base and date built or rebuilt. Table 3 - Service, principal commodities carried, and localities served by the vessels.

The volumes may be purchased with order from the New Orleans Engineer District, Attention: LMNED-S, P. O. Box 60267, New Orleans, La. 70160.

New Executive Council Set For Areawide Project

Thirty-six Coast leaders were elected to Southern Mississippi Planning & Development District's Areawide Model Project Task Force Friday at the Annual Meeting in Gulfport.

Balloting for a new Executive Council unanimously acclaimed Rev. Fr. James J. Hannon, Chairman of the Task Force. Fr. Hannon has been serving as interim Chairman for three months. Also elected were: John Pettus, 1st vice-chairman; Johnny Bearden, secretary; Mrs. Lou Fly, alternate secretary; County representatives are Mrs. Mina Minstead, 1st vice-chairman Harrison County; Rev. Fr. John Noone, 2nd vice-chairman Harrison County;

Mrs. C. R. Beyer, 1st vice-chairman Hancock County, Rev. Bernard Walton, 2nd vice-chairman Hancock County; John Grant, 1st vice-chairman Jackson County, Mrs. Lorraine Winstead, 2nd vice-chairman Jackson County.

The Slate of nominees offered to the Task Force was compiled by Jerry Bodin, chairman, nominating committee and Mrs. C.R. Beyer, Miss Nola Smees, Mr. John Grant, Ms. Pat Balduf, committee members.

New by-laws, written under a functional statement and adapted at the last quarterly meeting were distributed. The by-laws were authored by Johnny Bearden, chairman and John Pettus. Areawide Model Project, funded by the Department of Health, Education & Welfare, through Mississippi's Council on Aging, and implemented by Southern Mississippi Planning & Development District, is one of nine such projects in the nation, offering support services to the vulnerable elderly. The project works in close cooperation with all public and private agencies whose programs include Older Americans.

A meeting of the new Executive Council will be held in Southern Mississippi Planning & Development District's office in the Savings & Security Building, Gulfport, December 11 at 10 a.m.

Cacibaudas To Receive Degrees

Two Bay St. Louis school teachers are candidates for graduation from Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond, La. Graduates will be presented diplomas in ceremonies slated for Saturday in the Nic Cefalu Coliseum on campus.

Joseph A. Cacibauda, band director for Bay High Schools will receive a Masters Degree in music education. His wife, Katherine, will receive a Bachelors Degree in elementary education. She is a member of the faculty of Waveland Elementary School. Commencement speaker will be U. S. Senator Russell B. Long, Louisiana's senior Senator. State Board of Education member Richard D'Aquin of Lafayette will present diplomas to graduates.

State Song Is Sought

The Mississippi Arts Festival group is searching for a song, and they hope the first Festival Song Competition will be the means of finding it.

According to Mrs. Bill McCrillis, competition chairman, the contest sponsors are seeking a song about Mississippi. The first place entry will be designated the official song of the 1974 Mississippi Arts Festival, and will receive its premiere performance during Festival week by the Jackson Symphony Orchestra. In addition, a cash award will be given.

Who may enter? Any resident or native Mississippian. The rules are simple. All entries should be legible and written on ledger paper. Title of the entry must be clearly marked on the top of each page. Each entry should be accompanied by a $1 entry fee, and should be mailed to the Festival by March 1, 1974.

REALLY BOXED IN—Nobody knows better than these fellows what it's really like to be all boxed in, and Mother must wonder what the future holds for her eight pups. Things could get worse quick unless eight people come forward within the next week to offer homes. For eyes which are only now beginning to experience the wonders of the world around them, it'll be a shame if every one of them isn't adopted and given warm homes and lots of love. These 7 week old pups at the Bay St. Louis pound won't cost you a fortune either, because none has pedigrees...just cold noses...and warm hearts. ## N.O. Symphony Plans Special Holiday Programs

The New Orleans Symphony presents two special programs for the Holiday season, both conducted by Werner Torkanowsky and presented in the New Orleans Theatre of the Performing Arts.

The Symphony and Ballet Hysell team up for three performances of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" Ballet featuring dancers Frank Ohman and Linda Youth of the New York City Ballet in the principal roles. The three "Nutcracker" performances are set for Saturday, December 22 at 8 p.m., Sunday, December 23 at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m.

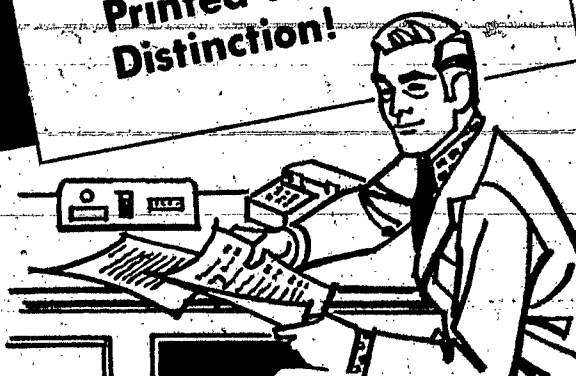

Gian-Carlo Menotti's "Amahl and the Night Visitors" features the New Orleans Symphony with the Indiana University Singers, members of the LSUNO Chamber Choir, and dancers from Ballet Hysell. It is directed by David Aiken and from the world premiere cast, with sets and costumes. The three performances of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will take place Jan. 5 at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Jan. 6 at 1 p.m.

Hints Offered To Puppy Buyers

Buying a puppy during the holiday season shouldn't be a spur-of-the-moment thing, advises the Gaines Dog Research Center, but it should be a well-planned event undertaken only after much advance preparation.

To assist families thinking about adding a pet to the family during the Christmas season, the Center has assembled a seven-part "Puppy Buyer's Kit" that should prove invaluable if obtained and studied beforehand.

The kit contains the "Gains guide to America's Dogs" wall chart and six Gaines booklets, "Where to Buy, Board or Train a Dog," "Welcoming Your New Puppy," "How to Succeed in Housetraining Puppies and Dogs," "Feeding Your Dog Right," "What Every Good Dog Should Know," and "That's My Dog."

The wall-chart illustrates in color the breeds recognized by the American Kennel Club and gives a brief history of each breed, its general coloring and average height and weight when full grown. The chart can prove very useful to a family attempting to determine the type of dog to buy.

"Where to Buy, Board or Train a Dog" lists thousands of kennels in the United States and Canada where a dog can be purchased, boarded or trained. The other booklets cover the care, training and feeding of the puppy from his first new nights in the new home throughout his life as an adult dog.

The "Puppy Buyer's Kit" can be obtained by sending 75 cents in coin or check to Gaines Kit, P. O. Box 1007, Kankakee, Illinois 60901. The special offer will remain in effect until December 31.

Domestics Draw Social Security

Almost one-third of the Nation's household workers could be eligible for social security retirement benefits in 7 years or less, according to Walter H. Hobbs, social security district manager in Gulfport.

"Most women household workers are in their 40's, but 29 percent are over 55. These are the workers who could start getting retirement benefits in 7 years or less," Hobbs said. A household worker can get reduced monthly social security retirement checks beginning at 62—or full benefits beginning at 65—if she has worked long enough in jobs covered by social security.

There are nearly 1.7 million household workers in the Nation, and 1.5 million are women, Hobbs said.

A household worker's cash wages count for social security if she is paid $50 or more in a 3-month calendar quarter from one employer working as a maid, cook, cleaning woman, laundress, housekeeper, babysitter, etc., in someone else's home.

"This means," Hobbs continued, "that a household worker's wages are covered by social security if she is paid as much as $3.85 per week in cash for 13 consecutive weeks in a calendar quarter."

"To get the proper social security credit for her earnings," Hobbs said, "a household worker should be sure to give her employer her correct social security number. The employer is responsible for sending a quarterly report of wages paid and the social security contributions to the Internal Revenue Service."

Merit Increase Request Denied

State Highway Department employees were recently informed that a request by the Highway Commissioners to reinstate 'anniversary date' merit increases was denied.

Salary increases on 'anniversary dates' were proposed by the Highway Department so that each employee would work a full year before merit increases would be given. In the present system used by the Commission of Budget and Accounting and the Classification Commission, pay raises are given July 1, regardless of the date of employment.

The Commission made their request to equalize salary increases of employees and to provide for annual evaluation of performance.

A spokesman for the Highway Department gave an example of the practice. "A person hired in October and another person hired the following May would both receive merit increases on July 1, under the present system, although the person hired in October had worked seven months longer," the official said.

Highway Department officials feel that no feasible course is available to equalize treatment of salary increases.

Anniversary dates had been used in the Highway Department since 1965, until the Classification Commission ordered the change in July, 1973.

Literary Competition Opened By Arts Festival

Guidelines for the Mississippi Arts Festival's 1974 Literary Competition were announced in Jackson today by Mrs. J. Larry Lee, committee chairman. The annual competition for all residents or natives of Mississippi has been a durable feature of the state Arts Festival for more than a decade.

As in the past, the competition will be divided into two divisions, the senior for college students and adults, and the junior for high school students (tenth through twelfth grades.) Categories are short story, essay, poetry and stories for children (limited to senior division entries.)

Cash awards of more than $500 may be awarded winners. However each judge reserves the right not to make an award in his category if in his view no entry is worthy. Awards of $100 will be made in each category of the senior division, while awards of $25 will go to winners in each category of the junior division.

According to Mrs. Lee, rules for the 1974 competition are that only unpublished, uncopyrighted and unpatented work will be accepted; entrants are limited to one entry in each category; and an entry fee of $1 must accompany each entry.

Additional guidelines restrict length for short stories, essays and stories for children to 2500 words, and poetry to one poem of 50 lines or less, or up to six poems of less than 30 lines each to be considered as a single entry. A limit of six poems will be placed on each entry.

Manuscripts must be typed, double-spaced, on one side of standard size bond paper. Title page must be detachable and must include the following information: name and address of writer (writer's name must not appear elsewhere), title of entry (to be repeated on upper right corner of each manuscript page), division and category entered, and current school attended, if any. No manuscripts or illustrations will be returned.

Deadline for entries is January 23, 1974, and all entries should be mailed to Mississippi Arts Festival Literary Competition, 847 Timberlain Drive, Jackson, Miss., 39211. Winners will be notified by mail.

Deadline Near For STAR Program

Again in this 1973-74 school year, the Mississippi Economic Council is sponsoring the Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Program. The purpose of the program is to emphasize the importance of scholastic achievement and to encourage greater scholastic effort by Mississippi students. It is also designed to honor the teaching profession for its contribution to scholastic excellence.

Last year almost 300 high schools participated in the Star Program. Culmination of the competition is special recognition at the Council's Annual Meeting for the top Star students and teachers. In addition, the top two Star students and the top Star teacher receive scholarships. To qualify for the Star Student Award, a student must be a senior regularly enrolled in an accredited high school in Mississippi. He must take the American College Test (ACT) in his junior or senior year.

The Star student in each high school is selected on the basis of his ACT score and his scholastic average during the first semester of his senior year. The Star teacher is chosen by the student as the teacher who has made the greatest contribution to his scholastic achievement.

CHRISTMAS FIRE SAFETY

This Christmas don't let the "jingle bells" heard in your driveway be those of a fire engine!

Failure to pay attention to fire safety in regard to Christmas trees, lights and other decorations can inject tragedy into this traditionally joyful season, warns Pass Fire Chief George Mixon as the busy holiday season nears. He offers these suggestions for keeping Christmas a firesafe and happy time:

1. Natural trees should be fresh-looking and firm-needed when selected. Saw off the butt an inch above the original cut, stand the tree in water, and keep it in water until it is disposed of — soon after Christmas Day. Don't rely on do-it-yourself flameproofing treatment, as none is truly effective. Set up the tree away from heat and where it won't block doorways or stairs. Artificial trees should be clearly marked as made of slow-burning materials. Look for the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label on trees with built-in electrical systems. With metal trees, use only indirect lighting to avoid the possibility of electric shock.

2. Check lighting strings for frayed and cracked wires, loose connections, broken sockets. Replace only with UL-labeled sets. Bulbs made in the U.S. generally are safest; imported bulbs may have dangerous hot spots. Electric cord sets with built-in fuses are strongly recommended. Always turn off tree and other indoor holiday lighting when leaving the house or retiring for the night. For outdoor lighting, use only sets UL-listed for this purpose.

3. Noncombustible materials such as metal, glass and asbestos should be used for decorations as much as possible. Make sure cotton batting, flock and decorating paper are flameproofed. Natural evergreen decorations dry quickly, burn readily, so keep them well removed from candles, the fireplace and other heat. Don't use polystyrene foam for table or mantel decorations where there are lighted candles.

4. Dispose of gift wrappings promptly and safely — NOT in the fireplace.

5. Be especially careful during the Christmas season to keep matches and cigarette lighters out of the reach of children, and try to keep the youngsters from playing beneath or near the Christmas tree.

Finally, Chief Mixon emphasizes, it is especially important during this busy time of the year that children never be left alone or without proper supervision — even for a short time — and that every family have a well-rehearsed escape plan for use in case of a fire emergency.

keeping you in touch

By F. M. Kyle, Jr.
Gulf Coast District Manager

Many of you know me, but for those of you who don't, I'm Franklin Kyle. I'll be writing this column from time to time as another way of keeping in touch with my customers.

The telephone company here in the Gulf Coast Area is made up of more than 900 local area people who all have at least one thing in common: they're interested in doing a good job for you. As your District Manager, I'm one of these people, and it's my responsibility to work with all other telephone people in providing you with the best telephone service possible.

The demand for telephone service is especially great on Christmas Day. Families and friends who can't get together in person usually place more long distance calls at this time than on any other holiday. Many people may not be traveling as much this year, therefore, we expect an increased volume of Christmas calling as compared to previous years.

So your calls can go through easier and faster, here are several suggestions:

1. Call early during the holiday season if possible, and remember that low holiday rates apply throughout Christmas Day and night. Also, rates for one-plus dialed calls are lower every day after 5:00 P.M.
2. To avoid possible delays, have the numbers you'll be calling right at hand prior to Christmas Day so you can dial the calls yourself.
3. If you are informed that all circuits are busy when you place your call, wait a few minutes before trying again.

A happy holiday season and a Merry Christmas from all of us at South Central Bell. We'll be keeping you in touch!

FOR WOMEN

MR. AND MRS. ROY BARRON CUEVAS

Stanislaus To Hold Christmas Concert

The St. Stanislaus High School Band and Choral Group will present its annual Christmas Concert December 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The concert will be centered around a medley of Christmas songs. Highlights of the evening will feature a Brass Quartet of Michael Keel, Royal Kraft, T. D. Adams and Richard Chris; and a Woodwind Trio of Toni Frankiewicz, Mike Rosato, and Barbara French. Of special interest will be the combination of the band and choral group for the song "Home for Christmas."

Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jacobi will have with them for the Christmas holidays their daughter Mary Jo who is attending Catholic University, Washington, D.C. Miss Jacobi is also employed in the Senate Commerce Department on Capitol Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Tudury Jr. and son Scott of Morgan City, La., were recent guests of his mother Mrs. Tudury Sr.

ENGAGED - Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas of Pearlington, Miss. have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Bevalie, to Timothy Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyal B. Ferguson, also of Pearlington. Both Miss Douglas and Mr. Ferguson are graduates of Hancock North Central School. The wedding is planned for Friday, December 21 at 7:30 in the evening at Pearlington Methodist Church. All friends and relatives are invited through this medium.

Christmas Is DKG Theme

Psi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon, December 8, at the home of Mrs. Juanita Erwin with Mrs. Erwin, Miss Julia Blaise, Miss Alma Parker, Mrs. Katrina McDonald, Mrs. Mildred Ramond and Mrs. Gertrude Stanton as hostesses.

Mrs. Marjory Christian, Chapter president, presided and Mrs. Jean Allgood gave the invocation.

Mrs. Erwin, program chairman, introduced Mrs. McDonald, who spoke on Christmas; stressing love and joy of Christmas and the importance of the two commandments. In closing she emphasized the power in working together.

Mrs. Toy Tedford and Bay High Sextette with accompanist, Mrs. Bart Carr, sang Christmas songs and Mrs. Tedford led Chapter members in singing Christmas carols.

The Christmas motif decorated the home for the occasion.

There were 40 members and nine guests present at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson Sr. attended the christening of his niece, Lori Gustafson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Gustafson, in New Orleans last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kingston were in Metairie last weekend with their daughter Janell for the celebration of her birthday.

Mrs. Carl Gustafson Sr. attended a meeting of the Order of the Amaranth, Inc., last Saturday in New Orleans at which time Grand Royal Matron of Louisiana, Mrs. Alma Craig, Gulfport, made her official visit.

Mrs. Gustafson attended the meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Otis Truex, Gulfport, and Mrs. Alvah DeLanzo, Pearlington.

Misses Laura Nel Cardin and Georgianne Holland of Metairie spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cardin.

Donlin-Cuevas Vows Solemnized

Miss Susan Nancy Donlin and Roy Barron Cuevas were married at a 6 p.m. service November 22, at St. Paul's Catholic Church, Pass Christian.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Louise Nancy Conlin, Pass Christian, and the late Bernard Francis Donlin Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Joseph Cuevas, Bay St. Louis, are parents of the groom.

Rev. John Gasper, associate pastor, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Charles Weston, organist, accompanied Francis Hursey Jr. and Mrs. Walter Gultbault, soloists.

Given in marriage by her brother, Bernard Francis Donlin Jr., the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over English net fashioned with a basque bodice and Camelot sleeves, her full length silk illusion mantilla fell from a Camelot caplet. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds centered with a white orchid.

Katherine Louise Bentz attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Terri Lynn Donlin, Kathy Ann Rachuba, Metairie, La., and Melanie Louise Cuevas. Stacy LeBeau served as flower girl and Randy Cuevas was ring bearer.

Ronald Anthony Cuevas was best man. Gary Garriga, Steve Carver, Gary Rachuba, Chuck Donlin and Randy Bentz were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the VFW Hall, Pass Christian.

The couple will make their home at 107 Alicia St., Pass Christian.

Extension Club Holiday Party

Edwardsville Extension Homemakers Club met last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edna Poolson for its annual luncheon and Christmas party.

Christmas decorations were used throughout the home and a miniature feathered Christmas tree, flanked by candles, centered the dining table.

During a brief business session Mrs. H.W. Duke installed officers for the coming year. Mrs. Poolson was installed president; Mrs. Gladys Discon, vice president; Mrs. Ethel Breaux, secretary; Mrs. Marvin Ladner, treasurer, and Mrs. Norma Fucich, parliamentarian.

There were 14 members and two guests, Mrs. Duke and Mrs. Ethel Ladner, attending. It was announced the next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. January 7 at the Poolson home.

Tender Loving Care

The HGH independent basketball teams is regularly meeting every Thursday night at the VCJ gymnasium...all employees invited to participate.

Betty Romanoff, Lab clerk, attended her first Saints football game this past weekend...must have been beginners luck to have picked a winner!

It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas...want to extend an invite to all to attend our second annual Christmas pageant to be held Saturday, December 22 at 7 PM on the front grounds of HGH...we would like to share a bit of the Christmas spirit with all of you!

ST. ANN'S CHRISTMAS FETE

St. Ann's Altar Society, Clermont Harbor, held its annual Christmas party Monday night in Parish Hall.

The Christmas theme was used in decorating the hall. Gifts were distributed by Santa Claus and games played by the group.

The prize for guessing the identity of Santa Claus went to Mrs. Honorine Hughes.

There were 25 members and guests attending.

Coach Lauds 'Unsung Heroes'

Five men do not a basketball team make — such is definitely the case of the 1973-74 Pearl River Wildcats.

According to Head Coach Billy Holmes, unsung heroes are numerous among the contributors to his team's fast start this season. Spirited efforts in practice sessions, managerial proficiency, as well as moral support, are some of the areas the second-year River coach points out in his praise of the behind-the-scenes Wildcats.

"Our second team players and our managers are vital parts of our ball club and their attitude and efforts go a long way toward determining our success on the court," says Coach Holmes.

Among the players whose backup jobs have been applauded are sophomores Larry Riley of Brooklyn and Tommy Edwards of Hattiesburg, and freshmen Dwight Bond of Picayune and Johnny Necaise of Hancock County.

Edwards and Riley are reserve guards who have seen little action this season, due largely to the closeness of Cat games. However, their attitude in workouts is called outstanding by Holmes. "Not many teams have the competition in intra-squad scrimmages that we do. It's a lot to ask a second team sophomore to show spirit in practice, but these guys have, and this has made us a better team."

BWYC Backwash

The Annual Stockholders' Meeting was held at the Yacht Club on Saturday, December 8, at 7:30. Brief reports were given by the chairmen of the various committees.

Commodore Ray Stieffel presented a plaque to special guest Mrs. Mildred Koch, honoring her late husband, Captain Harry Koch, for his extreme generosity and dedication to the yacht club. The plaque will be mounted in the newly completed Captain Harry Koch Junior Room.

Commodore Hardin Shattuck, who so capably led the club through the difficult first half of 1973, gave a résumé of his term. He presented a plaque to Vice-Commodore Walter Gehrke, chairman of the building committee, in gratitude for the many hours spent personally directing the remodeling of the club.

New members elected to serve on the Board of Governors for 1974-75 are, C.C. McDonald, Jr., Maurice F. Eagan, Lucien M. Cox, Jr., Eldon Gilly, Edgar W. Santa Cruz, Jr., and Charles A. Breath III.

club," comments the head coach.

Both Riley and Edwards entered this season following freshman seasons under adverse conditions. Riley missed his entire frosh season due to a knee injury and enters this season lacking the experience of other sophomores. Edwards, who made the team last year despite no high school experience, also played little as a freshman. Coach

Holmes calls both capable ball handlers and says they give this year's Cats excellent at the guard position.

Freshmen post men Necaise and Bond, 6'5" and 6'8", respectively, add height to the already strong inside game. "These two both have good size and should really be tough next year. They have shown in workouts that they possess ability and desire," Holmes says.

One area that the Wildcat head coach expounds on is the overlooked contribution of the team managers to the squad's success. This season, he has as managers Joe Wiley of Poplarville and Tony Pete of Kokomo, and is not stingy in his praise for their efforts.

Wiley is referred to by Coach Holmes as outstanding in his job of supervising basketball equipment and acting as team trainer. "He is by far the best manager I've had in my ten years of coaching," the coach says.

Serving as an assistant to Wiley, Pete has served the Cats as statistician this year. As Holmes states flatly, "All these people go together to make us a unified team and allow us to put a representative team on the court."

Trader John's Teen Scene: A Place Where Kids Can Get Together

TRADER JOHN'S TEEN SCENE

WHERE IT'S HAPPENING—Trader John's Teen Scene in Pass Christian is the place where it's all happening. A young person can become a part of this scene by just being a student in the sixth through twelfth grades.

by Renee Smith
Echo Staff Writer
Remember when you were a teenager? There was not much for kids to do if one lived in a small town except maybe hang out in the parking lot of the Frostop, talk over a burger at the Snack Shack or cruise up and down Main Street all night. Most of the time kids just got into trouble by rolling people's yards or painting road signs.

But this is not true of the teenagers in Pass Christian because they have a place provided just for them, Trader John's Teen Center. Trader John, (John Deffes, a Pass Christian resident and land consultant for the Diamondhead Corp.), said he and his wife started the teen center because there was no place for the teenagers in Pass Christian to go. "We are originally from New Orleans but I have been coming to the Pass since I was knee high to a duck and every summer the kids complained because they did not have anything to do but hang out on the street corners," Deffes stated.

He added that he had been thinking about the situation for years when he decided to give the teenagers a place to go other than on the streets. "The center requires a lot of time and we do not need the income; we just wanted to do something—for the kids," Deffes explained.

Pool games, foos ball, air hockey, pin ball and a baseball game are some of the recreational items which the center provides. "The teenagers may buy cokes, sandwiches and other snacks while they listen to the juke box complete with a large sound system. Deffes said no alcoholic beverages are allowed in the center or cigarettes sold. However, smoking is permitted.

He added that in the future the center plans to show movies.

The center has 250 members and in order to become one a young person must be a student. Only students in the sixth through the twelfth grades are allowed to join. The membership fee is one dollar a year and all students must be registered by Nov. 1. Members only are allowed in the center after Nov. 1 and there are no exceptions.

Deffes said the center has a strict code-of-etiquette which must be adhered to if a teenager wishes to remain a member. This code states: 1. Membership is limited to "students only", grades 6-12. 2. Neat dress and appearance—no sleeveless body shirts. 3. No profanity allowed. 4. Use ashtrays provided. 5. Keep the scene clean by using trash containers. 6. No food, drinks or cigarettes on the games. 7. No loitering in front of the building.

Any violation of the code will result in loss of membership.

"All I ask is that the kids show me their appreciation by following the code of ethics and by showing respect for me and my family who run the place," Deffes stated. He added, "If I find they do not appreciate Trader John, we take away their membership and they can never return."

A lot of older boys have asked to join the center, Deffes said, but "I tell them that once they are beyond high school age they must find more grown-up places to go because we don't want to mix the younger kids with the older ones."

Deffes said his relationship with the teenagers is "very friendly, cordial and respectful. I have found that these kids really need someone whom they can go to who will listen to and appreciate them." Deffes added that he tries to give the young people a little recognition for their achievements. After the Turkey Bowl game, several of the players came to the center with their trophies and placed them all around, Deffes stated. "We gave all of them free cokes and eats," he said.

Trader John extends an open invitation to all parents to visit the center. Many parents have come to the teen center and have been elated with its neatness, Deffes said. "The center is unique in that it is not a dingy pool hall where older crowds who could influence young people hang out," Deffes explained. He added that parents from as far away as Gulfport have brought their children to Trader John's center and all say they know of no other place like the center on the coast.

The conduct of the young people who come to the teen center is beyond reproach, Deffes stated. He added that there have been no problems because "they know we will not tolerate them."

According to Deffes, Pass Police Chief Gerald Peralta and Asst. Chief of Police Anthony Johnson are quite pleased with the center because prior to the opening of Trader John's the teenagers were "hanging out on the streets, drinking beer and getting into trouble." The police told Deffes the teen center had made their job easier.

Mrs. Deffes said the young people who come to the center "are the greatest." They are always neat and clean, she said. Quite a few girls are members and they enjoy pool as much as the boys, she added. She said she and her husband would like to thank the mayor's office, Chamber of Commerce, Police and Fire departments for their help before and after the center was opened.

Deffes said, "The kids don't have to have money to come to Trader John's. This is their hang out and they can come listen to music, visit with friends or just sit. They don't have to spend money."

And how do the kids feel about Trader John's?

Reginald Richner said he likes the center "very much because it's a nice place to come and has nice games." He added that he had won first place on the airplane game with 1,190 points. (Mrs. Deffes explained the center had three official pool tournaments and she was keeping the scores on the other games and at the end of a given period each champion would receive a trophy). "Well, I think it's a nice place to come because it keeps people off the streets at night. It's nice being here with my friends," Joseph Piernas stated. He also added that he had won second place on the airplane game with 1,160 points.

Phillip Armstrong said, "I like to come to play foosball. I think it provides a nice place for kids to come and it was the first place of its kind open around here for kids. Even though this is a small community, it does necessitate some need for recreation and this is the only place of its kind here which fills that need."

"It's a pretty good place," Charlie Stewart added and Grant Lacost just said, "I like the place."

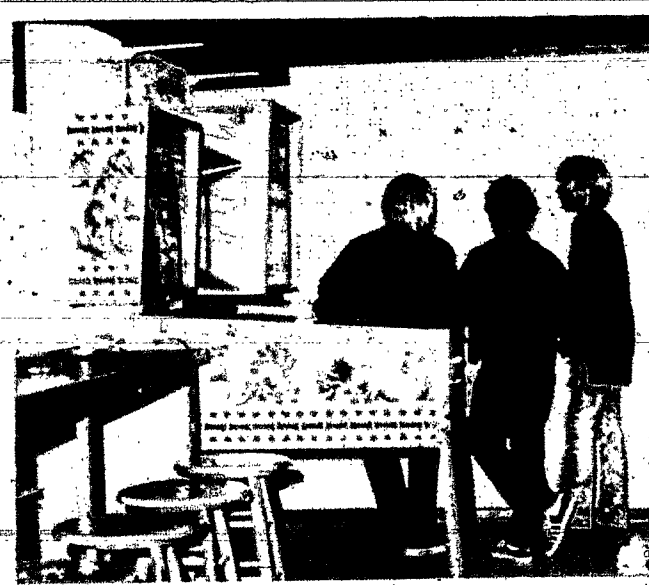

Trader John's Teen Center may not be the answer to stopping juvenile delinquency but it is a beginning. One thing is certain, it is a lot better than hanging out in a parking lot or cruising Main Street all night.

THE BIG SHOT—Reginald Richner, left, and Joseph Piernas appear to be involved in a very tense game of pool. The teen center has two pool tables and Mrs. Deffes said the girls like to play as much as the boys.

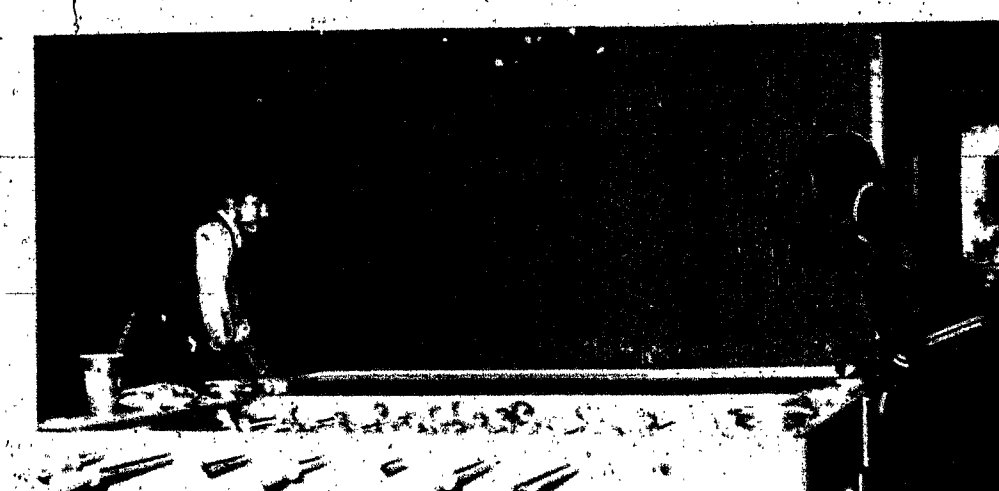

LISTEN TO THE MUSIC—Little Jessica Deffes seems to be engrossed in the music from the center's juke box sound system.

PINBALL WIZARD—Charlie Stewart, far right, may not be a pinball wizard but he is giving it a good try. Looking on is Matt Supulskos, left, and Grant Lacost.

SMILING TRADER JOHN—Mr. and Mrs. John Deffes opened Trader John's Teen Center because "there was no place for teenagers in Pass Christian to go." Trader John said they wanted to give the kids a place to hang out other than on the streets. Pictured with Mr. and Mrs. Deffes are their daughters Jessica, left, and Alecia.

GET THAT PUCK—Air hockey can be a dangerous game if one's finger gets in the way but John Deffes, Jr. and Philip Armstrong do not seem to care as they battle to make a goal.

Wildcats Are Sixth In Nation

The Pearl River Junior College Wildcats, who finished the 1973 gridiron season with a 9-1-1 mark and a number six national ranking, have extremely impressive showings in the seasonal statistics recently released by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

A stingy Wildcat defense, ever present throughout the '73 season, finished 1973 with the best total team defense in the nation, yielding only 139.8 yards per game. Pearl River's pass defense finished second in the nation with a 43.2 game average.

Wildcat rushing defense had a No. 8 national ranking for the season with an average yield of 96.6 yards per game.

Wildcat monster man, James Smith, whose spectacular defensive showings were commonplace in every outing of 1973, was named to the second defensive All-American team selected by the NJCAA, and J.C. Gridwire. Defensive end stalwart Bruce Staten was an honorable mention selected by J.C. Gridwire.

Quarterback Gary Blaize had a No. 12 national ranking in the individual passing category. Blaize hit on 43 percent of his 73 aeriels, gaining 1,102 yards in the process. Hitting on 7 passes for touchdowns, Blaize completed 63 of his 148 passes and had 7 intercepted.

In the total offensive category, Blaize finished 17th in the nation with 1,109 yards. J.W. Rawls, the key man in the Wildcat's offensive attack, was selected for the 2nd team All-American by the NJCAA and an honorable mention by J.C. Gridwire.

Offensive guard Gary Campbell was an honorable mention selectee by J.C. Gridwire.

Wildcat placekicker, Terry Adkins, finished second in the nation in the individual scoring by kicking with 62 points. Adkins hit on 26 of 29 extra points, while succeeding on 12 field goals. He finished only 7 points out of first place.

Adkins also received an honorable mention from the NJCAA for his efforts. James Smith, Bruce Staten, and L. B. Bullock were selected as permanent team captains by their teammates in a secret ballot.

the Gulf Coast Western Conference, and sent the Bulldogs on a climb after C. B. Murphy School of Pearlington, the leader.

The section A girls' game ended with Gulfview on top 10-2. Michelle McAtee scored the only basket for the Wildkittens.

In section A boys, the Bulldogs managed an easy 34-17 victory. Brian Shivers accounted for 18 of the Bulldogs' points while Russell Seay added another 10. The Wildcats were paced by Terry Swilley whose 16 points accounted for most of the scoring.

In section B, the Wildcat girls led by Phyllis Breazeale and Kim Cuevas emerged with a 20-12 win over the Gulfview girls. The Annunciation boys lost a determined fight with Gulfview 27-10.

Kelly's Record:

Second Place Second Time In Area PP&K Competition

Kelly Geroux, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Geroux of 116 McDonald Lane, Bay St. Louis, placed second in area competition Sunday in the Ford Motor sponsored Punt, Pass and Kick competition for youths age eight to 13 years old.

Kelly, who was a district winner in the 11-year-old bracket, competed for the area honors during half time ceremonies of the New Orleans Saints-San Francisco 49ers game with youths from Arkansas, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee.

He was a local winner in Bay St. Louis last September before winning the zone competition in Mobile, Ala. and the district competition in New Orleans last October. Sunday's winners advance now to the semifinals for the Divisional title to be awarded in Atlanta this Sunday.

All contestants in last Sunday's competition were fêted at a banquet Saturday night with Saints' players Bob Newland, Bill McCord, and Bob McNeil as guest speakers. Kelly also brought home the Saints' uniform that he wore for the competition—Sunday and a banner proclaiming him a district winner.

As a district winner, Kelly won a free weekend at the Marriot Inn in New Orleans for his parents and for Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Henderson. Charlie Henderson Ford, Inc. in Bay St. Louis was a co-sponsor of Kelly along with the local Jaycees.

Kelly is a sixth grade student at Our Lady of the Gulf Elementary School.

Had another cold front hit the coast this past week. It was down pretty low. Warmed up Sunday. Fishing in general hit the usual trend with salt water and fresh water fish being caught. It is rather uncomfortable when it's cold to fish but to catch fish we have to put up with uncomfortable. Speckles began hitting again and the same goes for bass (green trout).

Winter fishing is different from summer. Bass in the summer time hit surface baits while in the winter go for underwater baits. Right now they are being caught on Reel or Rapala plugs also Black Gnats with spinner and pork rind, used on a fly rod.

Hunting is on the slow side with most seasons closed until they open for the second or third segments.

The woodcock season opens on Dec. 15 as well as Snipe. Both are delicacies as far as eating goes. The season closes on February 17. They are small birds but delicious. Snipe and Woodcock are found in Marshy places and are kicked up. Fast flying they are a hard target to hit due to their erratic flight, giving a harsh scaple. Woodcock fly much slower and are a bigger target. Both birds have long beaks and dig worms and other grubs from the ground.

Fred Fisher lives in Waveland. Loves to fish. Will start later. Has other things to do, right now, he said.

Al Seely has been over from New Orleans for a few days. Al owns a camp in Shore Line Park and has been doing some painting and repairing. Plans to get back to fishing later.

If you love to dance and have a good time the VFW Kiln Memorial Post 8285 is having a dance on Dec. 21 at Kiln, Miss. Music will be by "The Country Classics". The affair starts at 8 p.m. Attend, you'll be glad you did.

Having a real deer hunt at Kerrville, Texas were 11 members of the Progressive Hunting Club of Waveland and Clermont Harbor. 13 deer and 4 axis were bagged by the group. If you don't know Axis, it is a type of deer imported by Eddie Rickenbacker from Africa according to Mel Villere. They multiply rapidly and are becoming numerous in Texas.

Among those making the trip were: L. Lloyd Garcia, David Garcia, Al Bernard, Robert Peterson, Mel Villere, Collins Klein, Jerry Bose and others. It was a trip to remember, said Mel.

J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, today called to the attention of hunters regulations governing the taking of raccoons.

Under existing laws, he said, it is legal only to hunt raccoons at night, and unlawful to shoot them during daylight hours.

The present statute reads as follows: "that it shall be lawful for parties of two or more hunters, and with one or more dogs to hunt raccoons at night with lights and to carry on such hunts, for the purpose of taking raccoons, not more than one standard .22 caliber, rim fire rifle, and to use single ball rim fire ammunition only."

He said that the raccoon is classified as a fur-bearing animal and the legal trapping season began December 1.

Coon hunting is a fine sport and enjoyed by both Miss. and La. hunters. Lots of coons are hereabouts especially in the city limits which is off limit to hunters.

The quail season opened on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 22 and extends through Feb. 28. The weather has been too hot up to now to hunt quail according to local hunters. Snakes have been around yet and hunters claim that there is danger of dogs being bitten. Colder weather should take care of this fear.

The director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission today advised waterfowlers that enforcement would be strict during the closed period following the first segment of the duck, goose and coot season that ended Saturday, November 24.

He said waterfowl hunting will re-open December 22 and that ducks and coots would be fair game through January 20, with the goose season to continue until sunset February 14, during the second segment of the split season.

He said that the same bag and possession limits for ducks under the point system would be in effect during the second part of the season; and the same bag and possession limits for coots and geese would prevail.

Most local hunters hunt in the La. marshes as well.

Joe Glover stopped by the other day to mingle with friends. Talked fishing and said he would be over soon to do some. We think Joe prefers fly fishing. Nice seeing you, Joe.

Understand Bob and Nell Dalstrom paid us a visit at Thanksgiving time. We missed them as we were in New Orleans. They now live in Texas.

Some beautiful hard crabs were on sale last week. The crabs were caught in crawls out in deeper water. Crabs take to deep water in cold weather. Very few are caught out front, in canals and bayous this time of the year.

Randy McIver, Richard Schaffer, Mickey Reid, Billy Powers and John Blanchette are a bunch of our younger hunters and fishermen who do most of their hunting and fishing out in the marsh. They are waiting for the duck and geese season to re-open. All had a good hunting season so far this year. They go for rabbits, doves, and squirrels on a smaller scale. As a pastime they enjoy playing

Frank Trapani doesn't take part in many sports but likes them all. He was busy Sunday taking care of his customers who were watching the Saints-San Francisco football game.

Terrell Manieri was over visiting his family Sunday. Always a pleasure talking with him.

Rabbit hunting should improve from now on with colder weather. It has been too hot for the dogs to work properly. Several of the bushy tails were killed over the weekend, it was reported.

M.F. Cass plans to be down during the Christmas holidays from Hattiesburg to do some fishing. He catches both fresh and salt fish.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK - E. H. Pratt of New Orleans is a brother-in-law and fishing partner of Eddie Marquez. E. H. spends a lot of time in the Bay fishing and crabbing whenever he can. Brags a lot about the fishing on the Coast.

O'Springs Defeats Bay Hi Tigers

By Edward Favre
The Ocean Springs Greyhounds outscored the Tigers of Bay High in every period and went on to win a Gulf Coast Conference Basketball game by the score of 67-55 last Tuesday night at Ocean Springs.

In the first period the young Tigers were outscored 20-11 and at half time were trailing 40-23. In the third period the Tigers were outscored 24-11 to give the Greyhounds a 64-34 lead. In the fourth period the Tigers battled back but were outscored 23-21 by the Hounds.

Higher scorer for Ocean Springs was Eunis Wallace with 24 points. George Powe added 18, Marvin Oliver 16 and Eugene Thomas 14. Allison Favre was high scorer for the Tigers with 16 points. T. Barrett and R. Magee added 15 and 10 points respectively for the Tigers. The Tigers are a young team this year and are rebuilding under new head coach Mike Necale.

USM HONOR STUDENTS
The President's List, top academic honor roll at the University of Southern Mississippi, has been released for the fall quarter.

To make this list, a student must have a 4.0 scholastic average (all A's) on a minimum study load of 10 semester hours work.

Included on the list from Bay St. Louis are Leslie Morris Fillingame, Jean Marie Johnson, and Donna Marie Williams.

SSC Downs Notre Dame

By Edward Favre

Stanislaus took the lead in the opening minutes of the game last Tuesday night against Notre Dame Rebels at Notre Dame Gymnasium at Biloxi and were never seriously threatened by the Rebels.

The Rocks held quarter leads of 10-6, 30-21 and 48-34. Gerard Lymuel led Stanislaus scores with 23 points, with Chuck Genin adding 15 points and Bud Lang 12.

High scorer for the Rebels was Stan Dellenger with 19 points, and Tony Huggar added 17 points for the Rebels.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
COUNTY OF HANCOCK

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

WHEREAS, on the 1st day of October, 1973, Archie B. Brown executed a deed of trust to J. Rubie Griffin, Trustee, to secure an indebtedness therein mentioned to Robert M. Moore, which deed of trust is duly recorded in Book 195, pages 184-5, Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Land, Hancock County, Mississippi; and WHEREAS, J. Rubie Griffin has declined to act as Trustee, and the beneficiary in said deed of trust, Robert M. Moore, has substituted the undersigned Robert L. Gennin, Jr., as substituted trustee instead of the said J. Rubie Griffin, which substitution is duly recorded in Book 175, page 574, Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Land, Hancock County, Mississippi; and WHEREAS, default having been made in the payment of said indebtedness, and the said Robert M. Moore, the legal holder of said indebtedness, having requested the undersigned substituted trustee to foreclose on said deed of trust for the purpose of paying said indebtedness and costs in accordance with the terms of said deed of trust, I, the undersigned, will on the 21st day of December, 1973, within legal hours, offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash at the front door of the Hancock County Court House in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, the following described property located in Hancock County, Mississippi, described as follows, to-wit:

LOT 1, BLOCK 4, FAVER'S ADDITION TO THE TOWN OF PEARLINGTON, Hancock County, Mississippi, as per the official plat of said subdivision filed in the office of the Clerk of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi. Together with all and singular, the rights, privileges, improvements and appurtenances to the same belonging or in any way appertaining. I will convey only such title as is vested in me, as Substituted Trustee. ADVERTISED, POSTED AND DATED, this 28th day of November, A.D., 1973.

Can You Do Anything about the energy shortage? We Think So!

Here's what we're doing about it at the Hancock.

We've reduced lighting [night and day] in all of our offices on the Coast and in Poplarville to a minimum.

We have eliminated the use of outside lighting on all our buildings and are maintaining exterior lighting at all locations only to the level suggested by President Nixon.

Our Christmas decorations will be installed but unlighted, as well as the stars on our Gulfport and Bay St. Louis offices, which have been landmarks for many years.

We've instructed our people to not drive bank vehicles in excess of 50 miles per hour, and we've also requested our more than 350 staff members and their families to do the same in their private automobiles. Further, we are encouraging them to form and use carpools whenever possible.

We've lowered thermostats to 68 degrees for winter heating, and suggested to all people that they do likewise.

While these efforts alone will not solve the nation's energy problem, we feel that by adopting these measures . . . and by urging our personnel to conserve energy too . . . we are doing our part for America.
